Our Beef Philosophy

At Firewood, great beef begins long before it meets the flame.
With a deep respect for breed, farm, feeding, and selection.

Chef Yang Hao favours grain-fed beef for its superior marbling and depth of flavour, shaping a style that is rich, balanced, and consistent.
Every cut is prepared thick, because for Chef Yang Hao, a thicker cut simply tastes better.

We cook exclusively over a combination of Malaysian Bakau Wood and Binchotan Charcoal where bakau imparts a gentle smokiness, and binchotan delivers steady, high heat for precise, even cooking.

Malbec Argentino tells the story of Malbec itself — from its origins in France, through its decline after phylloxera, to its remarkable rebirth in Argentina. The label uses four female figures to represent key stages in that journey, representing the birth and renaissance of Malbec in the New World.
